INTERNET CHILD SAFETY PARENT PRESENTATION

Children's increased access to and reliance on social media, chatting apps, gaming, and other internet-based platforms can lead to increased vulnerability to sexual exploitation. The U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) are offering free seminars to local parent organizations on keeping children safe and secure online. This is a sensitive topic and we strive to provide a comfortable space where parents can learn, engage with the speakers and ask questions.

Topics include:

- Cyber Bullying
- Gaming
- Sexting
- Internet Predators
- Digital Footprint
- Social Media 101
- Sextortion
- & More

These presentations are part of Project Safe Childhood, a nationwide initiative led by the Department of Justice to combat the epidemic of child sexual exploitation and abuse.
